

PSYCHIC CORPORATE READINGS BY SYLVIA MEISSNER & INTRODUCING COLOUR / ART FOR INTERIOR HOLISTIC SPACES

A brand new business consultant is opening onto the scene as; A Psychic Corporate Business Analyst.

The world is starting to reflect on other information that can be used by executives who can help a business along the way. Managers or nervous workers are seeking advice on everything from business strategy to creating a perfect job .

Healing Art Design is launching a programme for – “Corporate Psychic Readings and consulting with healing colour templates for interior work places”.

Even traditional consulting firms are seeking the ‘ Psychic perspective’. Analyst’s will ask for input while preparing reports for their clients, it’s another way of knowing and sensing into the now , says Sylvia Meissner – who specialises in corporate and personal readings.

Her background also as an International artist and a business pioneer, has launched and promoted her own art exhibitions in famous landmark buildings around the World, has an understanding of business dynamics that is critical for success.

She has an understanding of Retail knowledge, which she has been in her own New Age Art Gallery Shops in Sydney, Gold Coast and Brisbane City. Her experience in the retail sector has been over 17 years.

As an established reputable psychic in business for 28 years – “It’s giving people information on another level”. That information could be anything from sensing a troubled partnership to ‘ seeing ’ why a supplier is continually behind the schedule.

Corporate executives and psychics may seem to be a strange arrangement but their sensibilities are closer than we think. The more successful (The executives) are the more they recognise this type of information to apply in a practical way. Whats helping psychic consulting come out of the closet may be a pedigree of the psychics themselves Business psychic’s examine the probabilities by seeing the energy surrounding the people, organisations and idea’s.

Analysing negative traits, fear, confusion, leadership issues, communication problems; are only some area’s that may be threatening the organisations health.

The business model can be analysed in all area's to create new solutions which can be introduced for stability, economic growth and for harmony.

Sometimes a business can be saved, where the Directors need to see what is happening on the ground. Employee's may have some good idea's as they are working in the business where they can see the problems but management ignore their feed back.

Managing a business needs to be holistically evaluated, money and greed on it's own will not sustain a business for the long term. Other view points come into consideration with any type of business ie, participating in a world market with a new concept or a product can be psychically evaluated – whether it will become a success, has potential, growth or simply will it fail ?

To receive a Psychic Corporate consultation before anything is launched can save big money and heartache !

Any reasonable questions can be answered for spiritual evaluation and truthful counselling to help a business. Readings are for – “ The Royal path of Wisdom”connecting to Tarot which is not used as a fortune telling exercise.

The identity of a business can also be evaluated through numerology, which is a science that has a reference point about the holding position of a company, it's personality, purpose and destiny of it's creation.

A Psychic overview can foresee the problems that may be hidden for a business as the unknown can be presented in a consultation. A motive of a company can be closely scrutinised whether it would be beneficial as a joint partner ? All pros and cons can be considered before taking it to the next step.

Why not have a Psychic Corporate reading, it is better to sense what is ahead for strategy, an awareness for preventative measures and to gain an upper hand.

MASTER COLOURIST ADVISOR

Sylvia Meissner consulting with – “Healing Colour Templates” for business's and Interiors

Certain colour schemes for a business can be consulted to create the right impression, for positive chi energy, for harmony, to resonate with the theme of the business model which express's the right message to it's buyers.

Colours can be selected based on their healing qualities, symbolic meaning, tapping into a language of it's own that has a representation on an emotional, mental, spiritual and physical level whilst working with the fundamental laws of light.

Interior colours for the work environment can be applied with the right selection & colour choices for relaxation, energy, upliftment, power and for a business theme that connects to alchemy. Black is out and colour is in !
